

STANDARD TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF SALE

1. PAYMENT

- a. Checks and other forms of payment (individually and collectively, “payment”) are accepted subject to collection, and the date of collection shall be deemed the date of payment. Any payment that may be received from “Buyer”, the person, firm or company named upon Buyer’s purchase order and/or Mississippi Polymers, Inc.’s (“Seller”) invoice, may be applied against any obligation owing by Buyer, regardless of any statement appearing on or referring to such payment or transmittal, all without discharging Buyer’s liability for any additional amounts owing; and the acceptance of such payment and/or transmittal shall not constitute a waiver of Seller’s right to pursue the collection of any remaining balance.
- b. All invoices are payable at or before their due dates and no late payments are permitted. Late payments accepted by Seller shall be subject to a late charge of two percent (2%) per month or the maximum legal rate of interest if lower. Should Buyer fail to make any payment required hereunder, Seller may declare all outstanding bills of Buyer immediately due and payable, Buyer remaining liable for damages. If all merchandise has not been delivered to Buyer, Seller may sell off, for Buyer’s account, at public or private sale, any or all undelivered merchandise. Notwithstanding, Buyer shall remain liable for the expenses of such sale and any deficiency in the price received as compared with the price set forth upon Seller’s invoice.
- c. Should any dispute arise with respect to the merchandise covered by any invoice rendered, Buyer shall nevertheless pay all invoices covering merchandise not in dispute, without offset.
- d. For undelivered orders, prices may be changed by Seller at any time upon written communication to Buyer. The effective date for any such price change will be specified in writing, and in general, unless extraordinary circumstances exist, the effective date shall be no less than thirty (30) days from the date of such written communication.
- e. Any property of Buyer, including any company affiliated with Buyer, at any time in the possession of Seller, including any company affiliated with Seller, including but not limited to, merchandise billed and held (whether paid for or not) shall be deemed security for Buyer’s obligations hereunder, and should Buyer, including any company affiliated with Buyer, be in default of any of its obligations under this invoice or any other invoice with the Seller, including any company affiliated with the Seller, such property may be sold by Seller at public or private sale, with Buyer remaining liable for the expenses of such sale and any deficiency in the price received Seller as compared with the invoice price.

Where no shipping instructions have been supplied by Buyer, the mailing of an invoice shall constitute delivery, and title and risk of loss shall thereupon pass to the Buyer.

Samples of merchandise claimed to be defective must be delivered to Seller within ten (10) days of receipt of notice of defect. Seller, after examination of the sample, shall authorize a return if it deems the merchandise defective. Merchandise returned without authorization shall be rejected and all costs assessed to Buyer. All returns must be authorized in advance by way of Returned Goods Authorization number. Buyer agrees to make any and all tests necessary to determine whether the merchandise is satisfactory for its purpose prior to processing or cutting. 6. LIMITS OF SELLER'S LIABILITY

- a. Seller shall not have any liability whatsoever with respect to merchandise claimed to be defective unless within ten (10) days after Buyer's claim of defects, Seller receives representative samples of the merchandise claimed to be defective and an opportunity to examine, at a place convenient to Seller, all of the merchandise claimed to be defective. Thereafter, Seller may within thirty (30) days replace the merchandise claimed to be defective and such replacement shall bar any claims by Buyer with respect to the original merchandise. If Seller does not replace merchandise claimed to be defective, Seller's liability shall not exceed the invoice price of the merchandise claimed to be defective less the fair market value on the date of delivery of the merchandise actually delivered. Seller and Buyer agree that same is, and will be, an appropriate and satisfactory remedy.

By inclusion of or reference to flame or fire resistance, if any, tests or codes hereon, Seller makes no warranties, express or implied, that products will conform to such tests in end uses or under actual use conditions, and Seller shall have no liability for any loss or damage resulting from or arising out of the nonconformance of products to such tests or codes under actual end use conditions.
